Kola Salmon® Rods

Each Kola Salmon rod is designed by experienced anglers and was tested in various situations all over the world. A clear understanding of purpose of each rod makes its usage the most efficient in its specific situation, and it makes a fishing gear outstanding and the best fly rod an angler can own.

The rods of each series have similar, memorable "character"(action), that allows you to cast on a required distance with pleasure.

www.kola-salmon.ru

It's a modern, stylish, light and delicate single-handed rod. Made of premium class materials and components this series provides a maximum line control when you cast, even in difficult weather conditions.

You will be amazed with the «fast-progressive» action of this series. It is capable of making a long distance as well as a short distance cast that is a convenient feature when you go rafting.

The weight is spread all over the rod providing a high speed return to initial state without residual vibration.

There are "single-legged" rings on the blank. Ferrules of the sections are designed in a Put Over approach (the upper section is put on the bottom section).

The handle is made of carefully selected Portuguese cork. There are ultralight reel-seats made of natural cork on the "lower" classes rods: with a threaded insert made of natural cork.

Rods are supplied in a tube and case.

Czech Nymph is a very effective way to catch a fish with the small size nymph along the bottom of the river.

It requires a light weight, high sensitivity and a longer tackle to increase the angling zone.

Czech Nymph concept has it all: the fast action № 2-4 weight and 9' -11'4" length rods.

It is perfect for advanced anglers as well as for the beginners to meet a wide range of angling situation: from fishing on a boat or deep wadding, as well as dry fly angling on big open rivers and lakes.

It has been exported to Europe since 2008.

Rods are supplied in cases and tubes.

Kola Salmon rods of S2 and SF series are completed with the multi-sectional models: the TINY concept is focused on traveling anglers. The length of rod, which is marked by "t" (TINY Concept), in disassembled state is 40-42 cm length. For a safe transportation of two different rods the only one 45 cm length tube is enough that is not more than a space of any standard backpack. Tackle will not take too much space that is extremely important during long trips or fish rafting.

Urban anglers will also appreciate the convenience of this rod as it easily fits to a normal suitcase, and you can catch a fish on the way to your office that won't be that convenient with a regular set of meter long tackles in the tube.

The selection of S2 and SF series are defined by action of each series. SF rods are fast action and S2 are progressive action. When the angling conditions are changing it is convenient to have rods with two different characteristics.

The modern materials and design of SF and S2 enable the rods to keep a low weight and multi-section design.

Since 2009 a new series of rods had been developed and tested which is called the «Ocean». Marine and ocean fly-fishing is a new trend that becomes increasingly popular all over the world. People are attracted to the ocean by unusual conditions of angling and a wide spectrum of ichthyofauna. Marine fish is a very strong creature by nature that is why all the rods of this series are powerful enough to handle a sea fish. Moreover, they are equipped with the salt water resistant accessories.

The universal medium-fast action rods are ideal for comfortable angling at all distances and in any weather conditions. Rods have stable and predictable presentation for a good price - the best choice for the beginners, especially for those who are focused on learning of fly-casting techniques.

SM2 series are the rods you can rely on and experience remarkable feel that comes from the angling process with these gears.

With this series you can easily refuse from the use of expensive reels weighing less than 100 grams since the rods of 3rd and 4th weights are equipped with the extra-light reel seat. This feature allows you to balance the tackle with an inexpensive and quality reel weighing 150-165 grams.

SM2 Series are made of high quality components and have an elegant finishing. You can select the rod packed into tube or into the fabric case.

Two-handed Kola Salmon SM2 D-Flex 1409/4 rod is specially designed for anglers who are keen on salmon hunting throughout the season. This universal two-handed rod fits for fishing with sinking lines in spring at high water, and in summer - with floating lines at low water.

Kola Salmon D-Flex rod is designed for medium and large rivers, particular of the Kola Peninsula, where a long cast is an important component of successful angling. With this powerful and well balanced rod the angler does not even feel tiredness after long hours of fish hunting. Medium-fast progressive action reduces the demand on casting techniques and makes these rods are the best for angling practice, and even for learning of two-handed rod casts.

The load is spread all over the length of blank when you catch a medium-sized summer fish providing a delicate control, and a powerful butt will win the fight against the large specimens, even in high water extreme conditions.

Kola Salmon kits together with D 10-11, D 11-14, or DZ 11-14 reels are very well balanced tackles that perfectly goes together with short headed Spey lines and all kinds of "shooting heads" of two-handed 9'-10' weighted rods.

Double-handed rod is the choice of anglers targeted on big trophies. It is a rod of medium-fast action with a deep work of the blank, at the same time it is designed for high-speed line casts. This unique combination allows, on the one hand, the smooth control over a big fish; on the other hand to maximize the speed of line to enable a narrow loop that is essential for successful angling on the North. These powerful rods are quite delicate and light enough that allows to reduce control over time during the Spey casts.

Blanks are made of two types of high-modular graphite. This combination of materials and lightweight furniture significantly reduces the total weight of the rod but maintaining its high strength. The shape of handle is designed to perform underhand casts as well as wide casts, with medium and long-head Spey-lines.

Multisection design makes the rod of D2 series convenient for transportation, all the rods are equipped with carrying cases and tubes.

All models were tested on the field by experienced Russian and foreign anglers before their launch on the market. Continuous testing had been carried out during few fishing seasons (May-October) on the rivers of the Kola Peninsula - Kola, Kitsa, Kharlovka, East Litsa, Rynda, Zolotaya, Ponoï. The large specimens of salmon (Atlantic salmon), over 16 kg, had been successfully caught during the tests.

Kola Salmon® Jora series
The reliable universal reels

The key feature of this series is that all the reels are carved out of solid metal for perfect fishing. The product range is presented in three weights - # 7-8, # 10-11; # 11-14, and equipped with a powerful braking system,. The smooth braking force is provided by friction of steel and graphite: the brake disc has a larger area and it is fixed on the bearings. The spool is fixed hard on two bearings, and it is protected from water. The reel is design to protect fingers from contact with any hole, making your fish hunting safe. The large thickness of the frame is designed to strengthen the reel.

The reel is easy to care; it's enough to wipe the brake disc once in a week to make it work for a long time. The repair kits are always available at Service Department.
